The image features a woman's face, partially obscured by a complex, glowing blue and yellow circuit-like pattern. This pattern, which resembles a stylized mask or a digital overlay, covers the right side of her face and extends across the top and bottom of the frame. The pattern consists of numerous interconnected lines, nodes, and shapes, giving it a high-tech, futuristic appearance. The woman's eyes are visible through the pattern, and her expression is neutral. The background is dark and out of focus, with some faint, glowing elements that suggest a digital or technological environment. The overall aesthetic is one of advanced technology and digital art.
